Dolores Chavira Morado was born on April 6, 1937 in Williams, Arizona. Growing up she was known as Dody by her family and friends. She attended South Beaver Elementary, Flagstaff Junior and graduated from Flagstaff High School.

Dolores met Marshall Morado (deceased) when they both worked at the Orpheum Theater. On June 26, 1956 Dolores and Marshall were married at the Guadalupe Church in Flagstaff. Dolores and Marshall began starting a family in 1960 and had their first child, Vivian Morado-Stout (deceased) followed by Eddie Morado and Margaret Morado-Chopas.

Dolores worked at the Flagstaff Library for over 15 years and was an avid reader. She was an active member in the Guadalupe Church and helped with the bereavement lunches. Dolores also enjoyed seeing her grandson Angel Morado sing in his school plays and was a proud Grandma.

Dolores was the sixth of seven children born to Isabel and Marcos Chavira. All of Dolores's siblings moved to California, the oldest Lupe Jaime (deceased), Marcos Chavira (deceased), Lucy Troncoso (deceased), Jimmy Chavira (deceased), Ralph Chavira (deceased) and Betty Aguilera. She enjoyed visiting and catching up with family and friends. Dody was a true Flagstaff-er and will be missed.
